

Harding Ready For 1924 Race If G.O.P. Calls

WILL NOT TURN DOWN OFFER

Announcement Of Definite Plans
Held Up In Fear Of Gum-

Washington, Feb. 10.—President Harding has adopted an interesting attitude toward the question of whether he should or should not be renominated in 1924.
The president agrees with the argument advanced by Senator Robinson,
the Democratic leader, that discussion of candidacies this far in advance of the national conventions is decidedly premature. He is not unaware, however, of the current in the American senate and certain senators have thought enough of the importance of these currents to go to the white-house
and seek something definite on which to chart their course in the political debates which have sprung up in congress.

HARDING MAY RUN
Mr. Harding has had no hesitancy
in talking frankly with his callers on the subject for he feels it is at this time any rate more or less an impersonal matter. Mr. Harding believes it all boils down to this: If the administration has been a success, the party
in 1924 will literally want to renom-inate the man who stood at the head of that administration; if it is regarded as a failure, the nomination may not be attractive to any Republican aspiration as the people will turn to the other party's candidate. Under these circumstances if the party leaders were to think that some one else had better make the race, Mr. Harding would probably be found resigned to the turn of events. But the chances are against such an outcome because if the administration is to be the issue
in the campaign, which it undoubtedly will be, the party leaders will wish to have the man who made the record
stand forth and defend it.

HOLDING PARTY TOGETHER
Warren Harding is distinctly a party
man. He always has felt that duty to party was above the obligation to individuals. He feels that way about himself. And he is willing to abide by any decision the party may make in 1924. There are positive dissonances
as to any explicit statement on the subject at this juncture. First of all,
if he were to say that he did not care
for a renomination, it would simply stimulate all the various persons who want the nomination to begin active campaigns. Party solidarity in congress would give way to individualism.
Changes of making a good legislative record might be impaired by the desire of candidates to advertise themselves as militant champions of various measures. And it is a known fact that parties make greatest headway when they are harmonious rather than divided into groups and blobs.

If, on the other hand, President Harding were to say flatly that he is a candidate for renomination it would be like firing the starting gun in the presidential campaign itself. The efforts of political groups and organizations of various kinds to influence his course on pending matters would be redoubled. Pressure to get friends appointed to public office would be exerted in the light of what delegations
could be mustered for the first ballot
of the national convention as well as what votes could be gathered for the final fight in the autumn after the nominations have been made.

WOULD BE STRAIN
Mr. Harding knows what it is to deal with patronage. It is the most troublesome and perplexing phase of presidential work. To announce himself as a candidate at this stage of the game would impart to the next twelve months a physical strain which could not but diminish the energy of a man who has the responsibility of the presidency.

The president is anxious to avoid discussion of the renomination question. He did not inspire the recent speech of Senator James Watson of Indiana, Republican, but the latter made his own prediction of what the Republican party would do when he said Mr. Harding would surely be renominated. There has been talk in capitol hill that Jim Watson himself
was an aspirant for Republican nomination in 1924. All this has been on the theory that Mr. Harding was tired and would voluntarily withdraw.
Senator Watson did go to the white house. His speech is his own deduc-tion of what will happen, and it amounts to a disavowal of any candidacy of his own. It will be recalled that Herbert Hoover took occasion recently to announce his belief that Mr.
Harding would be renominated. He too had been mentioned as a candidate in the event that Mr. Harding withdrew.

CONTRACT WITH TOBACCO MEN OF STATE FACES TEST

By Associated Press
Madison—The legality of contracts
entered into by the northern Wisconsin Tobacco Pool with tobacco growers of the state for their crop over a five year period, will be tested at a trial to be opened before Judge E.
Ray Stevens, in Lane-co circuit court
here Feb. 19.

Pending the outcome of this trial
Judge Stevens Saturday continued in effect his temporary restraining order
enjoining the M. E. Bekkdale Tobacco Co. from interfering with the pool contracts. It is charged that this company is threatening existence of the Growers' Cooperative association
by inducing farmers to break their contracts with the pool for sale of

SHIP BILL MAY OBSTRUCT DEBT VOTE IN SENATE

House Approves Plans For Settlement Of British Obligations

BULLETIN
Washington—The British debt
funding bill passed Friday by the house was ordered reported
favorably with minor amendments
Saturday by the senate finance committee by a vote of 8 to 3. The senators opposing it were La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin;
Gerry, Democrat of Rhode Island;
and Walsh, Democrat of Massachusetts.

Washington—Although the senate
finance committee was meeting
Saturday to consider legislation by which the house approved the British debt settlement agreement, the time
of senate action it was problematical.
The house approved the debt agreement Friday by a vote of 291 to 44, only one Republican joining in a minority of the Democratic members in opposition.

The shipping bill has taken a position ahead of the funding legislation in the senate. Chairman Jones of the commerce committee having called up
the former measure Friday immediately after passage of the army appropriation bill. He announced the ship bill would not be laid aside except by a vote of the senate and its consideration ahead of the debt legislation was by other senate leaders to have the approval of President Harding with whom Senator Jones conferred early in the week.

Although a movement was underway Saturday among some members of the senate farm bloc to get the shipping bill laid aside in favor of a measure proposed by Senator Copper, supporters of the bill were confident the move would be frustrated.

YOUTH, 13, Kills Chum In Card Game

CHICAGO—Robert Rutkowski, 13,
was arrested in the railroad yards in a suburb for the killing of a boy
chum of the same age Friday night in a dispute over a card game. The lad was said to have boarded a freight train from the city.

In the absence of his parents,
Robert called Walter Melovitz, a neighbor boy, and with the former's two brothers they played a game
known as a "sixty-six." A dispute arose and Robert was said to have produced a revolver.

"Who's wrong?" Robert was said to have demanded. "Aw, it won't go off," Walter was said to have replied smiling.

There was a shot and Walter fell dead. Robert in terror fled from the house.

SEE CHANCE FOR PEACE IN ERIN

Republican Leader Is Disappointment

Dublin—Liam Lynch, Republi-

a proclamation declaring that
"the war will go on until the independence of our country is recognized by our enemies, foreign and domestic," and calling on the army to "continue activities with vigor."

Dublin—The rejection by Liam Lynch, Republican chief of staff, of the peace initiative taken by Liam Deasy has caused disappointment but there is a disposition on the part of the anti-treaty forces to regard the situation as having made progress in a pacific direction.

"The rejection does not make any more difficult the task that lay before the Irish people and the government," says the Freeman's Journal.

"On the contrary both have shown a readiness to pursue peace if possible by the methods of statesmanship. They demanded merely guarantees that would secure peace when it was won."

Liam Lynch, who owes his liberty
to the Irish generals' too trustful acceptance of his word of honor, insists that the factional war shall continue until De Valera's vision of "extermination" is fulfilled. We have a conviction that both these war
makers will be disappointed.

Estimate Total Number Of Dead
In Dawson Catastrophe
Will Reach 120

Dawson, N. M.—As the sun rose
over great stretches of Dawson Saturday, the stretchers bearing burned
and mutilated victims of Thursday afternoon's explosion kept arriving here from Dawson mine No. 1, of the Phelps-Dodge corporation. Steadily throughout the night the list of known dead in the second great mine catastrophe of this little village in the hills of the Cimarron plateau in the last decade, had mounted. At daybreak 36 bodies had been removed from the mass of debris cluttering the interior of the workings from the mouth of the shaft as far back as the rescuing crews had penetrated. Two men walked out of the mine unharmed Friday and 84 are believed to be still in the mine.

With the recovery, shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday morning of five more bodies in the shattered passageways, the total number of dead has reached 41.

According to figures given out by the corporation officials there were 122 men in the mine when the explosion occurred. Seventy-nine still remain in the mine.

ALLIED SHIPS DEFY ORDER TO LEAVE SMYRNA

AMERICAN COMMANDER BALKS Demands—Gets Permission To Remain

London—The latest information
from Constantinople as to the from diplomatic quarters here indicates that nothing important has developed in the situation at Smyrna, where the foreign warships are said to remain
in defiance of the order from Ankara.
There is no confirmation of the report
that the Turkish officials at Smyrna
have reached an agreement with the Allied naval commanders, whereby the status quo will be maintained pending
diplomatic negotiations.

The Constantinople correspondent
of the telegraph tells how the commander of the American Destroyer Litchfield met the Turkish order to leave Smyrna. The dispatch says that the vessel's commander admitted that the Litchfield registered slightly more than 1,000 tons, the limit set by the Turks, but explained that destroyers nowadays necessarily carry large ships, and that he would like to stay. The commander supported his answer by adding if permission were refused he had orders to stay anyway and pointed out that it would be much pleasanter not to have any trouble. The governor thereupon gave his consent, the correspondent adds.

Dispatches from Washington on Thursday said that the Destroyer Ed-

craft at Smyrna and that she, as a matter of fact, slightly exceeds the 1,000 ton burden mentioned in the Turkish order. Thirteen American destroyers, navy department officials said, are at Constantinople while six

No Bridge At Cherry Street This Year; 3 Aldermen Shift Vote

Doctor Sets Feb. 20
As Date For His Death

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Bath, Me.—"I expect to die on Feb.
20," says Dr. William M. Rouse.

Calmly he waits for death. He has made arrangements for his own funeral. He has bought farewell gifts for his grandchildren.

The fatal day has been fixed, Dr.
Rouse says, by mathematical calculation. This is the basis: His mother, Elvira Winslow Rouse, and his grandfather, William Winslow, died
exactly 43 days before their 77th birthdays. His own 77th birthday anniversary will be April 4—43 days after
Feb. 20.

No terror chills Dr. Rouse's heart
—though he believes he will be seized with a mysterious malady, as his mother and grandfather were, literally
starving to death as they did.

"Under this," he said, "The curious coincidence that my mother's birthday and my grandfather's were on the same date, Dec. 26—that both died on the Nov. 13 preceding their 77th birthdays! That both died of the same mysterious disease!"

"Both were in apparent good health
until two days before they died. Suddenly came a stomach infection, in each case. Physicians could find no organic trouble, neither could I digest
food, and they starved to death."

furnished rooms on the second floor

Council Cannot Enter Into Contract To Spend More Money Than it Has Available— Cost Exceeds $300,000 Limit

Prospects for building a bridge over the Fox River at Cherry-st this year or in the immediate future went glimmering Friday when three of the aldermen who have been supporting the administration's bridge building
program said they would not vote to award the contract
for erection of the two bridges because the cost would exceed $300,000. These three aldermen, with the four who have been opposed to the Cherry-st bridge from the start, would make a majority against erection of the bridge. It is probable, however, that an effort will be made to build the Lawe-st bridge as soon as possible.

Another factor, which has started into the bridge problem
is the discovery that the council
cannot legally enter into contracts to build bridges costing a sum larger than the amount of money available when the contracts were signed. Courts have held, it is said, that a council
cannot legally bind its successor
to pay a debt which the outgoing council has contracted, except in the case of emergencies or for general operating expenses.

Here is a Way Out

It is entirely possible for the council, however, to borrow money from the general fund of the city to make up
the difference between the money now in the bridge fund and the money required. But it is understood that a majority of the aldermen would not countenance this plan.

According to figures obtained in the city hall, the cost of the two bridges, with the necessary filling in of approaches and a paved street
from the south end of the proposed Cherry-st bridge to Foster-st, would be approximately $216,000. At least two of the aldermen have publicly stated that they would not continue supporting the bridge program if the cost exceeded $300,000 and these men,
with one other, have joined the opposition.

$150,000 IS NEEDED

The fact that the council cannot legally enter into contracts to spend more money than is available for the purpose also is a serious obstacle to carrying out the program, according to information from the city hall.
The council, by resolution, transferred $175,000 to the bridge fund as
a "nest egg" of generous proportions,
with which to start paying for the bridges. Approximately $150,000 will be required to pay for the completed
bridges and pavements and it is said
the contracts for the construction
cannot be legally signed until the required sum is made immediately available. It was the original plan of the administration to raise the sum required to complete the program in the tax levies of the next two years
but the complication is that there is no assurance that the next council will be in a mood to include a large sum in the tax levy to pay a debt which it did not contract. If the next council should refuse to provide the money to pay the debt caused by the bridge program the city probably would be involved in a lawsuit with the bridge contractors.

The way around the obstacle would be for the council to pay the $150,000
out of this year's general fund and borrow money to operate the city the remainder of the year. It is legal, according to city hall information, to bind an incoming council to pay debts
contracted for general city purposes.

TOO "HIGH HANDED"

But several of the aldermen regard this as a "high handed" method to
"jam" through the bridge construction program and they will not support an effort of that kind. It is certain that the four aldermen who have opposed the Cherry-st program
throughout will never agree to that course and the aldermen who are opposed to spending more than $300,000
probably will not be parties to the movement.

Another development of interest is that a majority of the council members have said in the last 24 hours
that they would be favorably inclined toward building a Lawe-st bridge at once. They say the bridge is necessary and that the money now is available. Most of these men also favor making repairs on the present Lawe-
st bridge that will make it adequate to the city's needs for a few years. It has been impossible to learn what the position would be made of the money

'FORSYTE SAGA' IS MOST POPULAR BOOK IN LIBRARY

Galsworthy's Much Discussed Work Meeting With Favor In Appleton

The widely discussed book, "Forsyte Saga," by John Galsworthy has been the most popular fiction number at the public library this last week. The volume includes three of Mr. Galsworthy's most powerful novels which linked together in fact component parts of a single long novel. It is a compendium of the Victorian epoch and of the first twenty years of the twentieth century. Its characters are verifiably true and the history of this typical English family is told by a thinker who is honest and sincere. The story takes the life of an English family through three generations, and aside altogether from the interest of its story, its significance as a singularly vivid commentary upon an important phase in English social history would make it a work to be read through the generations. Solely from the viewpoint of a story lover, its narrative of Soames Forsyte's marriage to Irene and all its effects upon the whole Forsyte clan, down to Fleur and little Jon, gains tremendously in the intensity of its interest and the force of its progress when read as a single novel.

The other two fiction books which have been in greatest demand have been "One of Ours" by Cather, and "The Cathedral" by Walpole. Both books have been among the most popular for the last few weeks and both have been featured as the most popular during some week.

"Public Opinion" by Lippman and "My Life and Work" by Henry Ford have been the nonfiction books demanded by Appleton readers. Both the books rank among the most interesting of the recent nonfiction numbers.

Of the children's books "Merry Adventures of Robin Hood" and "The Story of King Arthur and his Knights," both written by Howard Pyle, editor and illustrator, have been the most popular. The author brings to his work a touch of rich imagination which is so appealing to the younger folk and the stories in themselves are wholesome for the young mind as many of the better human instincts are defined so beautifully by means of the characters that they make lasting impressions on the readers. The designs are all done by the author who excels as an artist in black and white sketches.

Little Old Cartwheel To Do Big Duty On Thursday

The little old cartwheel on which the GREAT AMERICAN EAGLE spreads his wings will be of great significance in Appleton on Thursday when that piece of money will buy many, many things in the Dollar Day sales in which Appleton merchants are co-operating. More than ever the dollar will talk on that day beginning with the opening of the stores on Thursday morning and ending when the stores close at night.

The variety of things which may be purchased for a dollar each is great, although of course, these articles are only a small portion of the things on which there will be substantial dollar reductions. There will be everything from ivory shoe-borns to aluminum kettles, from umbrellas to four-larged-sized bath towels for a dollar. Speaking of bath towels, there will be lots of soap sold at 14 or more bars for a dollar.

There is something for everyone in these sales. Cigars for father, crumby trays for mother, dress goods for grandma, pipes for grandpa, hair brushes for sister, flannel shirts for brother and a wide variety of candy for the sweetheart.

A canvas of some of the stores showed that the articles to be included in their sales at a price of one dollar are: Buffers, umbrellas, dress goods with a special pattern, neckwear, jewelry, aluminum wear, crockery, flashlights, bedroom slippers, mixing bowls, flit curtains, flannel shirts, bud vases, shoe horns, bath towels, hot water bottles, fountain pens, thermos bottles, coin purses, photo albums, boxes of candy, toilet articles, bill folds, cigars, medicines, hosiery, underwear, candlesticks, baskets and many other things.

Aid Association Meeting A special meeting of the local branch of the Aid Association for Luthereans will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening in St. Paul school. The club plans will be discussed. Attendance is expected to be large because $2 will be given to the member whose name is drawn from a box if he is at the meeting.

THAT'S FOOLIN' 'EM, DOBBIN

We were driving home at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, when we saw a man with a fur coat on running ahead of us. About 40 rods ahead of him was his horse and cutter. As we were about to pass the man, he hopped onto our sleigh. He was all out of breath, but told us that his horse was so lazy that he got off to get a switch. Then the horse ran away and kept ahead of the man for a long way. The horse was finally stopped by some men who were repairing an automobile by the wayside.

THEY WERE PRETTY TOUGH

At the symphony concert on Wednesday afternoon, two little boys sat with their hats on during most of the performance. Finally one of them took his off and after a time, his companion followed his example.

WAS GOING TO ROLL IN SNOW

A lad of ten years went into Vandenberg's store on Cherry street on Saturday afternoon and leaned against the stove. His sleeve started on fire and he ran to the door. His sister caught him and held him until a woman beat out the flames. He said that he was going out to roll in the snow. If the gale that was blowing had had a chance at those flames, the little boy would have been burned to death.

INDIAN NOT GETTING STANDARD EDUCATION

Mrs. Laura Cornelius Kellogg of Seymour, known nationally as an authority on Indian life and activities, made an appeal to American sentiment in her address before the Rotary club of Green Bay this week. She said that, contrary to the prevailing belief, Indian education is not up to the standard.

"You think Carlisle and similar schools give an opportunity for advanced education," she said. "Carlisle only gives an education equivalent of a common school education and two years of high school. Some students spend many years there, especially if they happen to be good football players." Some institutions are maintained as productive ones and the youths spend one-half day in labor, after which they are so tired they find themselves unable to apply themselves to the subjects in hand."

WILL SET DATE TO OPEN INSURANCE BUILDING

The date of the formal opening of the new Insurance building of the Aid Association for Lutherans will be definitely decided at a meeting of trustees to be held Tuesday, Feb. 13, Saturday, Feb. 24 and Saturday March 3 are the dates under consideration. On the formal opening the public will be invited to inspect the new building.

PLAYS IN THE LEAGUE

On Wednesday morning after the light snow, two girls were going down Atlantic. One was carrying a bundle and when she jumped on hidden ice, she fired the bundle with such force that it landed on a nearby porch.

HIM'S A NICE BABY, TOO

Two women got onto the Seymour bus last Saturday and one was carrying something in a shawl that looked from the outside like a baby. When she got into the bus and sitting down, a furry little nose pushed out of the shawl and then I saw that it was a little white poodle dog.

HIS HONESTY PAID

A newsboy on the corner of Oneida and College-ave reaped a harvest for his honesty. Another boy sold a paper to a prominent man and short changed him, while the first one looked on. Then the first one told the man that he had been short changed and the man promised him a year's membership in the Y. M. C. A. for his trouble.

LEAVE IT TO OTHERS

The drivers of three automobiles on the Midway Thursday evening proved that people really do not care for each other's convenience. There was a large chunk of ice in the road and each driver hit it. His car swerved and careened a bit and passed on. Finally a group of women who had seen three drivers do the same thing, walked into the road and pushed the ice away.

OWNER SHOULD BE PARTNER OF MEN

Dr. Naylor, in Address At Oshkosh, Suggests Industrial Solution

Great interest was stimulated by the address of Dr. W. S. Naylor of Lawrence college before the Candlelight club of Oshkosh at Athearn hotel this week. A possible answer to the problem of relations between capital and labor was suggested by him.

The problem, as Dr. Naylor understood it, is how to adjust the compensation, conditions and relations of employer to employee so as to be satisfactory, ethical and adequate to both. The plan suggested is a partnership of capital and labor in which both receive compensation in proportion to the personal and financial service rendered.

His plan involves the standardization of wages; adequate standardizing of return for capital invested; coordination in management of industry in some ratio of personal and financial investment; books open; division of surplus; investment of surplus in joint business at least for the first few years; freedom of labor to join unions and mobility of labor; continuous collective bargaining and industrial courts to settle disputes on a par with other courts.

Adoption of such a plan, Dr. Naylor believes, will maximize cooperation and minimize violence; emphasize solidarity of interest; work as a self-acting inspection; raise personality above things and man above money.

THE WINDOW GLASS AGREEMENT

Federal Judge Westenhaver of Cleveland applied the antitrust law to the understanding between the National association of Window Glass Manufacturers and the National Glass Workers under which production was carried on in such a way that the public had to hear the financial burden of the manufacturers. The decision was in line with public opinion and policy, but it will have many far-reaching results.

The productive capacity of the plants in excess of the demand for window glass, manufacturers and workmen agreed to divide the plants into two groups and keep one group idle while the other group was busy. The arrangement allowed the manufacturers to protect their investments and the union to keep all of its men employed with consumers paying the cost in higher prices.

There is a better way to solve this problem than by making the public stand the expense. When there are too many men in an industry, the younger should enter other trades. When there are too many factories, or there is too great expansion, capital should pay for its mistakes.

PRODUCTS OF ALASKA

When Stansson tells us that the Arctic region is capable of agricultural productivity and the frigid weather is no restraint to developing the vast natural resources of the far North, we only half believe him. We look on him as the propagandist of that immense region, comparatively unknown and we take his sayings as exaggerations.

Our own Alaska we picture as a rich territory of gold and seals. The Seattle Chamber of Commerce obtained some publicity for itself with a banquet consisting exclusively, excepting coffee, sugar and milk, of Alaskan products. The menu was of some general informative value.

The food included shrimp from Petersburg, lettuce from Anchorage, salmon from Ketchikan, peas from Seward, reindeer from Nome, potatoes from Mantanka, carrots from Valdez, turnips from Menana, biscuits from Fairbanks, sourdough, raspberries from Wrangell, celery from Skagway, blueberries from Sitka and tea from Juneau. The menu was printed on paper made at Juneau.

Apparently the Arctic zone needs only exploitation and transportation. There are unquestionably opportunities for great development in that district, which, now far off, may become a big factor in the world's trade in the future. Will the self-made millionaires of the next generation hail from the vicinity of the North Pole? And will there be some large cities where now is only desolation?

THE "BACKWASH" OF THE WAR

During the war period people cherished fond anticipations that our national and community life was going to rise promptly to a higher level. A new spirit of self sacrifice and cooperation, they felt, had been drawn out. America was going to conquer its old faults and errors.

But since the country has been settling down from its disturbing war experience, these sanguine folks have been pained to discover that that conflict did not change human nature. The old faults and errors are still here. In addition a lot of new ones seemed to be created by the difficulties that grew out of the war.

High prices and taxes and uncertainties of business and employment made living conditions for a time harder for most people. There was a general scramble for advantages, everyone for himself, and the devil getting the hindmost.

Some people who had been cherishing

illusions rushed to the opposite extreme, and concluded that the world was in a state of moral collapse. They see signs of decadence everywhere. They find business rotten, the young people rough and loose, politics degraded, etc.

Time will show the folly of these unhappy views. There is something irrepressible in human hope and ambition. When it meets difficulties it may be baffled for the time. But before long it sees ways to surmount them.

The American people learned certain lessons from their fiery experience of battle. They hate war as never before. They are giving in charity as never before. They take hold in community work as never before. And the foolishness of industrial conflict is being revealed to them. Thus forces are shaping that will lift the country to a higher level, and America will never return to the inertia and self-satisfaction of the days before 1917.

QUALITY AND PRICE AS ADVERTISED

The most effective means to increase trade is advertising. So says Mr. A. J. Wolfe, chief of the division of commercial law of the United States department of commerce. Advertising, in order to be convincing and carry full force, he adds, must be true. "I want to see that day," he declares, "when a lie in an advertisement will shock us as much as if it were uttered from a pulpit, or a judge's bench, or the executive mansion."

Advertising is the most potent trade stimulant. As such it is not only an instrumentality for increasing business and profits. It is a facility which offers equal benefits to the public. The consumers gain as much from advertising as the merchants, and the great advantage of advertising is that it equally helps buyers and sellers. The full force of advertising lies as much in truthfulness as in display. Advertising must win the public's confidence. It must be backed up by the spirit of fairness and good business policy.

Merchants have no other utility for acquainting the public with their bargains than the daily press, and their announcements are timely news, for which the public looks and which it reads with interest. Advertising should be as reliable as other news which is presented as fact. Mr. Wolfe's purpose in calling attention to the commercial value of advertising is to remind merchants that advertising is the best trade-builder. The Advertising Clubs of the World are conducting a "More-More-Merchandise" campaign. Mr. Wolfe contends that advertising is the vehicle that moves business forward and augments the volume.

NEW BOOKS

Only 6863 new books were published last year in America. You wonder why the "only." It seems a lot. But in 1921 the total was 40,310. Figures along this line mean much to any one trying to watch the activity of the American brain in its alternating cycles of stimulation and decay. A falling-off of a third in the number of new books published, however, does not necessarily reveal the amount of reading being done by the public. For instance, 100 new books selling an average of 1000 copies each or a total of 100,000 copies, do not mean as much as one good book selling 150,000 copies. The public unquestionably read more books last year than the year before. That might not show up in the total number of volumes sold, for at least five times as many people borrow books as buy new copies. The drop in the number of new books issued last year may mean that publishers are selecting manuscripts more carefully before putting their money and sales organizations back of them.

Fewer new works of fiction are being published than in 1892. The movies explain that. They supply fiction without the bother of wading through type. On the average, one hour of movies provides more genuine diversion, entertainment and relaxation than 10 hours of printed fiction. The poets and dramatists seem to be getting a larger audience. Last year 680 new works of verse and drama were published, compared with 259 in 1892. Geography and travel, in the matter of new books, has shown very little change in the last 20 years. The World War has made many of us interested in original causes, which probably explains why 518 different works of history were published last year, compared with 165 in 1892.

When you observe that 17,173 new books were published in our country during the last two years, you realize how few books out of the total the average person has time to read.

Considering that very few of the total are really worth reading, it perhaps is for the best that readers are pressed for time. The trouble is that, in the labyrinth of new books, a reader is rather at sea about which to select.

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

SAVING THE TEETH

Teeth are bones. The dentin is practically identical chemically with bone—it consists of about 85 per cent calcium phosphate and 10 to 12 per cent calcium carbonate.

Some dentists have accepted a theory that dental caries (decay of teeth and cavity formation) is caused by sugar and starch adhering to the teeth, undergoing fermentation by bacterial action, forming lactic acid, which dissolves out the calcium or lime and produces the cavity. This is merely a theory. Some dentists do not accept such a theory, among them Dr. Percy R. Howe of Harvard university. Dr. Howe cites experiments which failed to support the theory. Twenty guinea pigs, fed for a year on a diet containing large amounts of sugar (dextrose, levulose, lactose, saccharin, dextrin) and white flour, showed no injury to the teeth, although sugar and starch constantly adhered to the teeth and bacterial fermentation was constantly going on. Some of the best preserved teeth are in the mouths of children who eat extraordinary large amounts of candy and starch "breakfast foods."

Dr. Howe, who is assistant professor of dental research and chief of the research laboratory, Forsyth Dental Infirmary for Children, has found that young animals fed on a diet poor or lacking in the antiscorbutic factor (the vitamin which prevents scurvy) suffer not only softening of the bones but decalcification of the teeth. Even though these young animals may gain steadily in weight (and I particularly urge mothers who try to raise children on "dead" food to remember this) they suffer grave impairment in the development of the bones and teeth. If the diet is corrected so that the young animal is given a fair allowance of the vitamin which promotes healthy bones and teeth immediately begin to grow harder and stronger; they become recalcified. This remarkable change may be brought about merely by adding to the diet such a vitamin-rich article as orange juice. Orange juice as well as tomato juice and fresh vegetables are well known as preventives and cures of scurvy in man.

A baby at the breast gets all the vitamin he needs in his business of growing and thriving, provided his mother is not subjected to any silly restrictions of diet. The nursing mother should eat everything in the form of wholesome food and drink which are good for her ordinarily and never avoid any item of food merely because some gossip claims it may do this and that to the baby. The more varied the mother's diet, the more fresh fruits and vegetables and relishes and salads, the better for the baby's health and his teeth.

Infants cheated of their birthright by the unfitness of the mother, and condemned to woe largely on some substitute, ought to receive a daily ration of orange juice, tomato juice, peach juice or other fresh fruit or vegetables, a few tablespoonsful, from the age of 6 weeks upwards.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Immunity To DiphtheriaA friend speaks in a letter of having had her child "vaccinated against diphtheria," making them immune for the next 10 years. Is this correct or possible? We should certainly like to have our children made immune to diphtheria if there is such a thing possible.—D. E. W.
Answer—Yes, in many cases children are being immunized against diphtheria. The child is first tested with the Schick test, which resembles vaccination, but causes no sore arm; if this shows that the child is susceptible, a toxin-antitoxin is administered which produces a protective immunity against the disease. How long the immunity endures it is impossible to say. It is a relative, not an absolute immunity, and probably confers sufficient protection to keep the child safe throughout childhood. Every physician can apply the test and immunize children who are found susceptible to diphtheria.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Saturday, February 12, 1898

Capt. G. W. Spaulding visited relatives at Green Bay.

Mrs. Max Mayer left for Green Bay where she was to be the guest of relatives for a week. Seeds from the agricultural department at Washington, D. C., were commencing to flood the mails. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ferguson were called to Sterling, Ill., by the death of a relative of Mr. Ferguson.

T. W. Origen went to Stevens Point, where he was arranged for the building of a dam across the Wisconsin river for 2,500,000 syndicate. Marshall & Hannel were about to commence work on a new warehouse 30x60 feet in size at Little Chute.

Members of St. Aloysius society were busily engaged in fitting up their new gymnasium in the sub-basement of St. Joseph hall.

Happy Jack, the lone pacer owned by Charles Fosse, arrived home after a tour of the middle west and was to be seen on the streets daily taking exercise.

TEN YEARS AGO

Saturday, February 8, 1913

Mrs. G. E. Buchanan was to entertain three groups of ladies at luncheons at her home on east College-ave the following Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Paul F. Hunter of Menominee, formerly of Appleton spent the day with friends here.

The Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Brayton were called to Joliet, Ill., by the critical illness of Rev. Brayton's mother.

Miss Rachel Hammel left for Madison to resume her studies at the state university.

The work of dismantling the old opera house at the corner of College-ave and Appleton-st to make room for the new $100,000 building to be erected by the First National bank, was about to be commenced.

Albert Dahms was advertising a fancy line of naval oranges at from 25 to 40 cents per dozen.

Paul G. W. Keller of Appleton was elected a member of the executive committee at the convention of the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers' association at Green Bay.

Miss Lenah L. Scarles of Fond du Lac and H. G. Peebles of Lawrence college were married at Fond du Lac.

Need Rule To Guide Traffic To Bathroom

Need Rule to—18 ed page

(From The New York Sun.)

When a guest gets up in the morning in a strange house and partially dressed and then peeks out of his door to see if the coast is clear to the bathroom, he has arrived at that moment which makes visiting the last thing in the world to do for the fun of it. Why don't books on etiquette say something about the proper method of directing traffic to and from a bathroom?

Why don't we see in the advertising sections of the magazines a picture of a dark hall with four bedroom doors standing slightly ajar and an anxious person peering one eye around the edge of each?

YOU PEEK IN THE HALL

Certainly one is never more in need of a book to tell him what to do than when trying to decide whether a host wants to get his own shave first and get out of the guest's way or whether he wants to be polite and let the guest go first. There are moments of profound agony and a little advice on how to relieve the suffering would be popular and have a large sale.

Consider the matter closely. You, a guest, take your first morning peek down an unfamiliar hall. Theoretically there is no reason why you should not stop boldly out and have a look at the bathroom door just as you do at home, for you have a bath robe on. But actually there is a reason. That bath robe, thoughtfully supplied by the host, is lovely bath robe and all that but it wasn't made for you. It was made for the host, who is 12 inches taller than you and it fits you in a way that makes you never want anybody to see you in it if you can help it. It fits you like a small circus tent. So you peek out into the hall, not walk out.

Good! The coast is clear. There is the bathroom door wide open. You grab your toilet articles and towel and take one more peek to make sure—and there across the hall, staring around the end of his own door, is your host, looking you straight in the eye, the most embarrassing thing that has happened to you as far back as you can remember.

DISGRACE FOLLOWS FALL

Well, you jerk back out of sight, of course, and stand in the middle of the room blushing like a lighthouse for a pretty long time and then by and by you are convinced the host has pulled back into his shell, just as you have and stayed there.

All confidence now, you sweep open the door and stride out into the hall. And what has happened? Why, the host does likewise, of course. And before you are consciously master of your movements you whirl around and start a retreat but forget to hold up the train of your circus tent and get twisted in it; dive half way down the front stairs and throw your razor and toothbrush away down into the front hall, where they clatter like falling vases—and everybody in the house comes charging out of their rooms and get a view of you that prevent them ever again taking you seriously as long as they live.

When people spend a lot of time writing books on whether to pick up a fork after you have dropped it and utterly ignore such subjects as how to get into a bathroom, what can they be thinking of?

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent, Information Bureau, Frederick J. Juskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Please give recipe for cranberry sherbert. B. L. R.

A. Look over and wash two quarts of cranberries. Cover them with hot water and cook until tender. Strain through a fine sieve. Add 4 cups of sugar, cook until dissolved, then add juice of 1 lemon. Cool, turn into freezer. When thoroughly chilled, add the beaten white of 1 egg, and continue freezing. Do not allow the sherbert to stand long in the freezer.

Q. Why wasn't George Washington's signature on the Declaration of Independence? C. L. F.

A. George Washington was not a member of the Continental Congress at the time the Declaration of Independence was signed. He was in command of the Continental Army through action of the Congress and assumed command July 3, 1775. He was, however, in close communication with the Congress and announced his willingness to cast his lot with the signers.

Q. What is a tombstone tournament at golf? A. H.

A. In a flag tombstone tournament, play is on a medal basis, the players' club handicaps being allowed. Each player is permitted to play a number of strokes equivalent to the par for the course, plus his handicap, and when he has played his last shot he must mark the spot where his ball lies with a flag bearing his name. Instead of using a flag to designate the point at which the player has completed his number of strokes the replica of a tombstone is sometimes used, bearing an epitaph something to the effect that "Here Died Jim Smith, October 15, 1922."

Q. How far apart are the geographic North Pole and the magnetic north pole and which is true north? C. R. W.

A. The Geographical Survey says that the latitude of this magnetic pole is 70 degrees 5 minutes and the longitude, 96 degrees 46 minutes W. It is nearly 1,400 miles south of the North Pole. True north is the point on the true meridian directly north. The true north means the geographic North Pole.

Q. Is chilled shot hard on a gun? L. P. A.

A. The National Rifle Association says that loading companies are gradually coming to standardize chilled shot which is much more effective on game and no harder on the gun. As a matter of fact soft shot is more inclined to lead a barrel than chilled shot.

Q. When should the joint card of the husband and wife be used? W. P. D.

A. Such cards may be used by a bride when calling after her return from the honeymoon, when sending a gift in which her husband shares, and in sending acceptance or regrets to invitations in which both participate. A new era of church efficiency in

Weekly Sermon

(Each Saturday The Post-Crescent will print a tabloid sermon prepared by pastors of Appleton's churches. The sermon printed herewith was prepared by Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of First Congregational church.)

LEADERSHIP IN THE CAUSE OF CHRIST

Judges 5:2. For that the leaders

took the lead in Israel, for that the

people offered themselves willingly, bless ye the Lord.

God, the leaders and the people—

these three are the factors, if anything

great and lasting is to be done in this world.

God endowed and inspired the prophets Deborah on the chieftain Barak;

they inspired and led the people; the

people offered themselves willingly,

outdid themselves in valor, and utterly defeated their country's enemies.

The heart of the matter is that the people offer themselves willingly and

do their best, only when they are inspired by good leaders whom they trust and who, they believe, are right

and led of God.

Our army leaders tell us that the major work in developing a nation's army lies in the training of its officers. Now a moment's reflection makes it clear that in our church army of

Christian disciples, we spend almost

all our strength in enlisting private

soldiers and giving them a bit of drill.

Our way of providing our church officers is largely by hit or miss methods.

A new era of church efficiency in America will come when we select our potential leaders early and train them

well.

SHOULD USE ABILITY

The New Testament teaching about

"gifts" or "talents" is that the Creator has endowed each follower of Christ with one or more special abilities which are intended to be trained

for the service of the Christian community. It is only when each member discovers and uses his gifts, that the church is developed into all-around efficiency.

As a matter of fact we have paid

very little attention hitherto in discovering the special gifts of our young people, and then training them along

those lines for their life work.

Happily we are waking up, in our church life and in our public education, to the vital importance of discovering the God-given talents of our children, and training them for their

life-work along those lines.

The whole movement for junior high schools centers largely round this

New Testament truth. We have been fumbling in all our education about

this matter and we cannot remedy the fault too soon.

TOO MANY MISSETS

I once asked the head of the vocational school what proportion of boys and girls started in to work, at the wrong kind of job. "Three out of every four," he answered, "are misfit-

t in their first job." What a shameful

fact that is, if it be a fact.

Of all the natural "gifts" bestowed

for the benefit of church and state,

the most urgently needed are the gifts

of leadership. Let every sincere churchman in the community reflect

upon the need of competent officers

for the adequate leadership of his church. Where are the lieutenants, so to speak, the captains, the sergeants

and corporals who alone can enable

the private Christian soldiers in your church to give a good account of themselves to their great Commander? They are right in our families and our Sunday Schools, silently, wistfully looking to us to help them discover clearly and train the talents which they feel vaguely stirring within them.

In those crises for our children we have too often been "asleep at the switch." Both the Master and our children, both the church and the state

call us to fulfill this duty.

Jew Is Biggest Polish Problem

(Charles Suroles, in Current History Magazine.)

The most interesting, the most picturesque and the most enigmatical specimens of humanity to be found in Lithuania, Poland and the Ukraine are not the Lithuanians, the Poles or the Ruthenians, but the Jewish people.

The Kingdom of Israel is not to be sought for in Palestine, but in eastern Europe.

A study of the eastern Ghettos introduces you to a new and strange world. It reveals a type of Jew whose existence you did not suspect in the west. I think I have visited most of the Ghettos of the world. I have visited those of Amsterdam and New York, Odessa and Tiflis, of Carlo and Jerusalem. But only after wandering through the Ghettos of Poland and Lithuania, after frequenting their synagogues and their theaters, after reading their Yiddish papers, did I understand the infinitely complex character of the Jewish race, the baffling, the elusive and the tragic nature of the Jewish problem.

Every solution proposed is fraught with formidable difficulties. In Russia the solution is likely to be a violent one. In the other parts of Europe no solution thus far seems to be in sight. Assimilation cannot be a solution, because the orthodox and conservative Jewish communities refuse to be assimilated. Zionism is not a solution, because there would not even be room in Palestine to accommodate the Jewish population of Warsaw.

Wholesale emigration is not a solution, because the settlement of millions of Jews is only conceivable in the unoccupied parts of Siberia. If this diagnosis is correct, the future of the Jewish race is indeed dark and uncertain.

I could not lift anything heavy, and a little extra work some days would put me in bed. A friend had told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I gained in every way, could eat better and felt stronger. I had found nothing before that this did me so much good." — Mrs. J. GRACE, 291 Woltz Avenue, Buffalo, N. GRIP EPIDEMIC LEADS TO PNEUMONIA

Neglected Colds and Run Down Condition Source of Danger

Many Lives Needlessly Sacrificed

Colds are always dangerous. Now when an epidemic of grip is sweeping the country they are doubly dangerous because they often develop into serious throat troubles, grip or pneumonia which often result fatally. The time to treat a cold is at the beginning; the best way to treat it is to begin taking Father John's Medicine at once because Father John's Medicine soothes and heals the breathing passages while its gentle laxative effect drives out impurities and relieves the cold in the natural way. Father John's Medicine gives strength to ward off grip germs. It is safe for every member of the family to take because it does not contain alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form.

4 CASES, 2 DEATHS FROM INFLUENZA

Prevalence of Grip Growing in This Locality — Felton Urges Caution

Germs that have lain dormant in the dust for months when snow was scarce now seem to have come to life with the result that many people are afflicted with bad colds, grip, and in a few cases with influenza. One recent death certificate gave "flu" as the cause. Of three other influenza cases reported, all in one family, one person has died.

While Dr. W. C. Felton, health commissioner, denies that there is a "flu" epidemic in the city, the existing cases being mostly a form of grip, he enjoins caution upon everyone, reminding "that an ounce of prevention is worth two pounds of cure."

Prevalence of grip or "flu" has been traveling northward for the last week or so, and in some cities the disease has even reached proportions of an epidemic. A large number of students of Fond du Lac high school are reported to be absent on account of illness and business places there are handicapped because of illness of employees. At Green Bay also a considerable number of cases of grip have developed. The mayor of Sturgeon Bay has already ordered schools, movies, churches and other public places closed, as many homes are quarantined there. The Green Bay reformatory also has been quarantined.

The diphtheria epidemic that was the chief source of worry of Appleton families this winter has been checked, and there are but few cases of scarlet fever.

ORIENT COLLEGE DRIVE IS ENDED

Appleton Assists Nation in Reaching Two Million Mark For Schools

Two million dollars has been raised in the United States for the Women's Union Christian colleges of the Orient Mrs. C. E. Thompson, Wisconsin chairman of the organization, announced Thursday.

Wisconsin raised between $20,000 and $40,000 toward the fund.

It is not known how much Appleton gave as the funds were sent in by the persons collecting them instead of as a whole.

STORY LED IN RACE WITH GRIM REAPER

Business was good for the doctor during the month of January, although the undertaker did not exactly have cause for complaint. Accrued assets for the city of Appleton are represented in the 48 births; the increased liabilities are indicated by the 30 deaths. Both conditions are above normal.

The prospects for the future are nominal. There were but four marriages in the city last month. Diphtheria, pneumonia and grip contributed to the January mortality, according to the report on vital statistics by Dr. W. C. Felton, health officer.

Sermon Subjects for Sunday

Sermons of special interest are to be delivered at local churches Sunday morning. One in particular will be in recognition of the service of a Sunday school superintendent who resigned after 40 years continuous service. Another will be on Abraham Lincoln. Sermon topics:

St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran — Morning worship, 10:30, sermon subject, "Anxiety and Its Cure."

Scouting Enters Its Fifteenth Year With Bright Prospects

Appleton boy scout troops are joining with brother troops throughout the country in observing the fourteenth birthday of the scout movement during anniversary week from Feb. 8 to 12.

This city has conducted a membership drive to help in the nationwide campaign for 100,000 new members, bringing the United States total to the half million mark. Cards bearing the names of prospective members have been turned over to the nine co-operating churches of the boy scout movement in Appleton. The climax will be a boy scout roundup on Feb. 24.

At present the local troops and those persons identified with the movement are absorbed in reorganization of the council. Hereafter the council will embrace troops in other localities of the Fox River valley.

SCOUTS HERE 12 YEARS

While local scouts are celebrating the fourteenth anniversary of scouting in America, they are at the same time observing the twelfth anniversary of the movement in Appleton. The original troop was organized in the parish of All Saints Episcopal church in 1911. But there was an interruption in scout activities during the years 1913 and 1914. Frank Young was scoutmaster of this first troop of 11 boys who are now young men.

Scouting was revived in January, 1915, when a number of boys gathered in Columbia hall. At about the same time another group of boys was organizing. The two united to form troop No. 1, with Warren Reid as scoutmaster. George Harry as assistant and John C. Ryan as scout commissioner.

When Leigh Hooley came to Appleton, he was placed in charge of this troop, but later resigned to become scoutmaster of troop No. 2 which was organized in November, 1919. Other troops were organized within the next six months. Thus by the spring of 1920, there were six troops in existence.

FORM APPLETON COUNCIL

The scout movement having become too large to handle without a headquarters organization, a group of men interested in the work headed by the welfare committee of the Rotary club, of which H. W. Tuttrup was chairman, organized and asked for a charter of the Appleton council. The first executive committee consisted of the following members: Aylesworth, C. C. Baker, H. L. Davis, William Fountain, T. A. Gallagher, J. A. Hawes, Gustave Keller, L. J. Marshall, A. R. Fads, Judson, Rosebush, Dr. M. J. Sandborn, E. E. Sager, H. W. Tuttrup, F. P. Young, W. C. Wing and C. E. Mullen.

E. R. Anderson was engaged as the first scout executive, taking charge on June 1, 1920. Various forms of intertroop activities were promoted, and a court of honor was established to conduct monthly reviews and tests, make promotions and award honor badges. An efficiency contest was held between March 15 and June 15 at which troop No. 8 took first honors. At a scout rally in May troop No. 2, ranked highest. A fire squad was organized under the guidance of Louis McGillan of the fire department. The troops made themselves useful in various forms of civic service, such as Red Cross, war savings, Near East relief, etc.

CAMP ORGANIZED

In the summer of 1920 the Appleton troops joined with those of Oshkosh to take advantage of a few weeks' outing at Camp Onaway, Chain-o-Lakes. This was followed up with another summer camp at the same place the following year under the direction of H. P. Buck, who succeeded Mr. Henderson as scout executive. This camp was held independently of Oshkosh scouts and continued for two weeks. Last year, the summer of 1922, the third camp was held in two periods of two weeks each, with 88 boys and 16 scout leaders. At this time 289 tests were made, 184 tests were passed before the court of honor and 101 merit badges awarded.

In the spring of 1922 Mr. Buck advocated reorganizing the troops on the basis of church units. This plan was carried out last fall and troops were linked with the following churches: St. Joseph, troop 1; Methodist, troop 2; Baptist, troop 4; Episcopal, troop 5; St. Mary, troop 6; Presbyterian, troop 7; Congregational, troop 8; Jewish, troop 9; Trinity Lutheran, troop 11. No. 3 was reserved for a future troop in the Methodist church, and No. 10 for a Fifth ward troop.

FORM VALLEY COUNCIL

The entire Appleton council is now under process of reorganization, in order to expand and take in troops from other sections of the Fox River valley. A local committee is to be organized with representatives from each co-operating church and these committees will form the valley council.

Following are the committee men from each church in Appleton: St. Joseph—Frank Groh, George Schlegel, Emanuel and K. H. Tillman; Methodist—W. E. Smith, W. S. Ford, Dr. M. J. Sandborn; Baptist—J. E. Denison, Clyde Smith; Episcopal—Louis Bonini, A. Henry, Vance Edwards; St. Mary—Karl Schuetter, William Fountain, Francis Rooney, Sr.; Presbyterian—B. J. Rohan, H. B. Little, F. P. Martin; Congregational—Dr. H. E. Peabody, George Wettengel, F. B. Towner; Jewish—Moses Bender, Isaac Kline, Julius Kahn; Trinity—Edward Kuetner, Emery Greunke, Gustave Tesch.

Through 14 years the fundamental principles of scouting have been summed up in the scout oath and the scout law. The scout oath is "On my honor I will do my best: 1. To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the scout law; 2. To help other people at all times; 3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." The scout law is summed up thus: "1.

Government's Concern Is To Keep Taxes From Going To Higher Levels

Lower Taxes Not In Sight Yet, Declares Babson — Fixed Charges And Huge War Interest Can't Be Changed Now

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—"When will taxes be reduced?" The problem is uppermost in the mind of the American business man and investor as he figures his report for 1922.

To get the answer Roger W. Babson, statistician, has spent a week in Washington studying the tax situation. His first hand findings and unbiased report are of vital interest.

"Future taxes," says Mr. Babson, "depend, in part, upon future expenditures. The figures for the past year on this score, at least, are very hopeful. Whatever criticism may be made of the present administration it must be admitted that it has exerted a continuous effort to reduce expenditures. An honest attempt is being made to introduce and operate a budget system. At the conference of bureau chiefs, recently at Continental Memorial Hall some 600 men met to effect further economy in the operation of the government business."

PUBLIC DEBT BIG

"Fixed charges, interest rates, and previous obligations, of course, cannot be changed, and in spite of the splendid work done to cut down current expenditures, the expenses of the Government for 1922 reached a total of $3,755,302,499.80. Nearly one billion of this amount was paid out as interest on the public debt such as Liberty bonds and other outstanding securities in the United States; $253,800,000 was used in pensions to soldiers, or their dependents, of the War of 1912, Mexican war, Indian wars, Civil war and Spanish American war, while $450,000,000 was paid for compensations, care and training of veterans of the World war. Approximately $455,000,000 went for the navy, and $475,000,000 for the army. About 50 per cent of our total expenditures go to the payment of interest, sinking funds, pensions and the relief to veterans."

During the fiscal year of 1922, the government collected $4,109,104,150.94. Present prospects, however, indicate that no such amount will be collected in 1923. The excess profits tax has been removed and general business is not as prosperous, and therefore will not yield as much in taxes as in previous years. To meet this situation, President Harding has earnestly requested that expenditures be cut by $92,000,000 more.

NO ALARMING SITUATION

"If we look at the United States government as we would a corporation, there is no cause for alarm. Expenses have increased, to be sure, but expenses have increased in all businesses. On Jan. 1, 1923, we had in the United States, in gold $3,933,476,615, about 45 per cent of all the gold in the world. Of this, over three and one quarter billion is held in the treasury mostly in the form of bullion. If we look at the ledgers, we find that 3,600,000 tax payers and 101,200 corporations contributed $2,068,128,192.68 in 1922, while only $356,443,387.18 was received from customs and duties. "Further study indicates that the problem during the next few years is not of trying to decrease the present budget, but rather of trying to hold it where it is and keep it from going much higher.

"These figures on Government receipts and expenditures have a direct relation to investors. They mean that the present demand for non-taxable bonds will continue. A good many people who have their money in taxable securities have continued to hold these securities and pay a tax on them with a subconscious hope that sometime, some day, somehow, somewhere, their taxes would be reduced.

SHOULD NOT STAMPEDE

"All this means," concluded Mr. Babson, "that the very large investors will continue to hold tax-exempt securities but there is no reason why the average investor should stampede to secure such issues. The bond crop is one crop that has never yet been known to fail. Many people believe that owing to the improved conditions, money will be much higher and that all bonds will decline in price during the next few months. This may be true, but I seriously doubt it. Although the Babson chart stands today at 3 per cent above normal, which would ordinarily signify that we are entering another period of inflation, a statistical study strongly suggests that this present optimistic figure is only temporary. The great readjustment which started over two years ago is only about 60 per cent complete. My prediction is that bond prices in 1923 will average about the same as the bond prices in 1922, and the 'tax-exempts' will follow the general market."

"It will be safest for investors to count on present high taxes continuing, even if congress has sense enough not to reenact an excess profits tax."

Dance Postponed at 12 Corners, Meltz Pavilion to Sunday, Feb. 11. Roads will be opened and busses will run as usual.

New York—The 400,000 Boy Scouts in America are beginning the celebration of their fourteenth birthday, this week, with the addition of another 100,000 to their membership.

This is the culmination of an intensive "anniversary round-up," which started last November and had the object of raising the membership of this famous boys' organization to the half-million mark.

Thirteen years ago, the Boy Scouts of America was merely an idea in the minds of men who are still its guiding spirits. It followed the formation of a similar organization in England, in 1908, by Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell.

In the United States at this time there were two boys' organizations. One, founded by Ernest Thompson Seton, was called Woodcraft Indians. The other the Sons of Daniel Boone, was led by Dan C. Beard.

These two organizations were combined and, February 8, 1910, were chartered as the Boy Scouts of America. Since then, the Boy Scouts have had some 2,000,000 boys in its membership, and at the beginning of this year had a standing membership of 400,001. This week, the leaders of the movement hope to count half a million boy scouts.

SCOUT LEADERS

At the head of the organization today are men like Colin H. Livingstone of Washington, D. C., the only president the organization ever had; James E. West, chief scout executive since January 1, 1911; Mortimer L. Schiff, New York banker, vice president of the national council of the Boy Scouts of America; George D. Pratt of New York, treasurer; Clarence H. Howard of St. Louis, and Walter W. Head of Omaha, vice president of the National Bankers Association.

Although it is 13 years old, the Boy Scout movement is still in its infancy, say its officials. They point to the fact that there are some 5,000,000 boys of scouting age in this country and only half a million in the movement.

The aim of the Boy Scout movement is generally to supplement the various existing educational organizations and to teach boys to do things for themselves and for others.

Every boy, to become a scout takes an oath in which he pledges himself to do his duty to God and country, to help other people at all times and to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. His motto is "Be Prepared," and his slogan, "Do a Good Turn Daily."

PRESIDENTS AS MEMBERS

Four presidents are on the list of honorary members — Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Harding. More than 30 governors have taken the scout oath as honorary "tenderfoot" scouts.

Leading the boys, with no money compensation for themselves, are nearly 130,000 business and professional men who are acting as scoutmasters, troop committeemen and members of local councils.

Cuticura Heals Pimples Scattered All Over Face

"I was troubled with pimples that were scattered all over my face. The pimples were hard, large and red, and very sore when touched. They festered and itched and burned, and my face looked awful. I tried different remedies but to no avail."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I could see from the beginning that it was helping me so purchased more, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." Where the dim trail dipped down the steep banks of the cut and the shadows were darkest, Dawnlight snorted and halted, to pound on the brink with her sharp hoofs.

"What ails you?" said Val aloud, "afraid of a little dark? Go on."

And the mare went, though with deep breaths of suspicion that whistled in the night. Down and across and up they went, swiftly, and were all but on the levels again, when Val jumped in her saddle, for a desert owl cried almost in her ear from the thick bushes on her left, and she waited and cried again, to be answered far up the arroyo, and to be still.

Dawnlight raced away toward the distant sanctuary of Paradise, and the girl in her saddle never knew that the owl had voiced a warning, nor that, an hour later, two men rode out of Arroyo Pecos by different ways, one, a huge, square figure of a man on a swift, square horse, toward the south, the other to the north.

Never knew that, had she been below the rim of the cut, so that she might look up against the stars, she would have known the great red horse that heaved his massive withers over the brink with ease and power for Redstar the matchless—nor the man in his saddle for the Boss of Paradise.

CHAPTER VII

The Fourth At Santa Leandra

The glorious Fourth came up across the range-land as all Fourths should, clear, bright, warm with sun and cool with a little wind that would soon die and leave heat and dust to rule.

At Paradise a small tragedy had been enacted, for Redcloud for the first time in his life had been left behind when the Red Brood went away to run. Alone in his paddock the old pacer ran this way and that along the fence, his head high on his lifted neck, his eager eyes straining into the distance toward the north and west where yesterday at dusk those other favored ones had been led away.

He was to go indeed, though in another capacity, for Val Hannon's heart was sore for him and she groomed him with her own hands, combed his flowing mane and tail, and put upon him the splendid all-weather saddle that was the Redstar's own.

Dirk came out with a cow pony ready to ride the twenty miles to Santa Leandra with her, and Val must run into the house to get the neat flat package that held her finery and was to be tied behind Dirk's saddle, to kiss her mother and push Panita laughing into a corner.

So presently she rode out of the corral on Redcloud, her dark eyes shining and with roses in her dusky cheeks, and Dirk beside her rested idling eyes upon her.

As they turned away toward the north Val turned in her saddle, halted, for from far down in a stretching field there came, clear on the morning air, a keen and ringing call—the whinnying cry of a horse to his beloved—and Redstar stood, a spot of color on the green, his head high, his nostrils blowing, his soft eyes waiting eagerly.

Then she went forth to the joy of a ride at dawn, the visit to the town, which was a rare experience to her, the dance and the races.

The girl's dark eyes were alight with pleasure as she took in the brilliant crowds, and they crinkled joyously when the Texas boy spied her and came swinging gracefully up to greet her with a hand at his hat.

Dirk frowned, for all Paradise was jealous of its sovereign.

And she passed on to the corral where Briston stood to take the horses. Roy Porter and Percy Jacks and Siff O'Neil, all riders for Paradise, crowded around her.

"Val," said Percy, "how you goin' to divide th' day? Who's goin' to walk about with you first?"

"Any way suits you, boys. Toss 'jacks, I guess."

She was gay as an Indian herself in her scarlet silk waist, black tie and tan riding skirt, which some outfit she would wear all day, and she was happy as a lark.

She encountered some few people that she knew, a girl from a ranch far north, several cowboys, and lastly Royce Glendenning, handsome in his heavy blond way and lazily interested in her.

"Will you eat dinner with me, Val?" he wanted to know abruptly, standing before her in the beaten dust of the trampled street -- and Percy flushed red beneath his golden tan.

Val--their Val--eat dinner with any one beside the bunch from Paradise? It would be a sacrilege, a humiliation and a cause for battle.

It was significant of Paradise that not one number sought him a girl, that all would attend in a body with John Hannon's daughter in their midst, proud of her beauty, alert to every word or look--all, that was save Tom Briston, whose first, last and only care was the five red horses in his charge.

Now Val looked Glendenning over coolly and shook her head.

"No," she said, softening her refusal with a smile, "I've got partners--five of them."

Dinner took an hour--and suffered, it to say in passing, that every one from Paradise did it full justice. Shortly after the crowds began to gravitate, as by common impulse, toward the southern end of town where the open plains came up abruptly, where the corals stood and where the "race track" lay. This was simply a long level stretch, flat as one's palm and soft with trodden loam, the most natural and ideal track in the world.

There was no fence about it and the gay crowd strung out along its entire length. It fell to Siff to look out for Val, and never did man accept honor more delightedly. Siff was young and full of laughter, vain as any O'Neil before him had ever been, and they sauntered half-way down the track, craning their young necks for a good vantage for both start and finish and sat down on the naked earth as simply as the squaw a rod beyond.

"Hi! Hi! Hi!"

The yells ripped down the track in a wave as the beautiful creatures lay down to earth and ran in pure joy of the open, the light and their own free power and speed.

Dawnlight was the only well-known horse in this host, the others being newcomers from up north. For a time they were well launched and Val held her breath. Then the red mare, stretching out like a shaft of light, began to force ahead.

"Running away!" cried Val, "coming!"

"Wait!" warned Siff with an anxious frown.

And almost on the word Dawnlight threw up her head, broke and pitched off to one side, wild and ugly as a demon.

"Damn!" cried the cowboy frankly.

The big brown gelding came running in far ahead.

Twice in the three heats that made the race Dawnlight was to ramp out and be disqualified.

"Had will never let her run again when he hears this," said Val, "and I don't blame him, either."

But the mare was forgotten for the first heat of the next race was coming on and they could see the brilliant shine of Firebrand and The Flame, pretty, nervous youngsters among the darker horses. Silkskin was there, and two other blacks and a rangy Indian claybank, but the flame-red colts with their creamy manes and tails took the eyes of all beholders. They were gentlemen too, minding their orders and swaying with nervousness--eager as wind to be let loose.

And when they were gone, at last--gone with an even start, neck and neck with Silkskin and the claybank, they ran like wind indeed--light on their drumming feet, skimming the earth like swallows.

"Lord! Lord!" said Val, softly, her eyes like stars, "you darlings! You blessed darlings!"

For Silkskin was drawing away from the rest like the center of a whirlwind--and the tossing cream crests were flanking her on either side.

Silkskin was far and bye the best--coming true to the predictions for her--and the youngsters from Paradise were keeping pace with her faithfully.

Farther and farther stretched the distance between the three and those behind--they flashed by Val and Siff and shot under the wire nose and nose.

Deputies Will Visit Points In County To Give Income Tax Advice

All individuals who are affected by the federal income tax law but have not yet received their blank forms from the Milwaukee office would do well to report at the local revenue office in the city hall, Miss Ethel M. Hillburg, deputy revenue collector, announced. This applies also to all income tax-paying individuals who have moved into this locality within the last year.

Special representatives of the district revenue office will soon make an itinerary covering a number of the outlying cities in order to assist partnerships, firms and individuals in filling out their income blanks. A special representative will be in Appleton between March 7 and 15 to assist corporations in making returns.

C. R. Fairbanks, who is at present assisting in the work at the local office will be in Kaukauna to give assistance to taxpayers, other than corporations, on March 2 and 3.

APPLETON HIGH SCHOOL AND FONDY CLASH TONIGHT

FURTHMEN WILL SEEK TO AVENGE RECENT BEATING

Double Header Starts At 7 With Seconds Playing Menasha Five

THE LINEUP
APPLETON FOND DU LAC
Mills, r. f. Johnson, r. f.
Heldeman, l. f. Wagner, l. f.
Ashman, c. Capt. Dew, c.
Briscoe, r. g. McKinley, r. g. Capt.
Hagen, l. g. Voell, l. g.

Appleton high school basketball team and Fond du Lac high school will meet Saturday night in Armory G in their second contest of the season in a game that will have an important bearing on the outcome of the Fox River Valley High School Athletic conference title.

Though Appleton defeated Coach Fruth's five at Fond du Lac, the Blue and Orange is not expecting another lopsided score. In fact, Fondy will be a rather dangerous opponent Saturday night, if the plans of the Fondy coach work out. Fondy will present an altered lineup, calculated to give Coach Denney's men plenty of work. This change is the shift of McKinley from forward to the guard position. Fruth has found that the new combination works out much better and gives his aggregation a chance for better teamwork. The change is also meant to impress Appleton that Fond du Lac will not rely entirely upon McKinley for the shooting and that it will not be necessary to keep the Fondy star under the same strict cover that he was when the teams met before. No matter, however, what shifts the have been made in regard to McKinley, Appleton players have been instructed to keep an eye on McKinley and not allow him to cut loose.

TEAM IS IMPROVED
The high school game here Saturday night will be the first home game since Jan. 19 when Manitowish bowed before the onslaught of the Blue and Orange.

The hostilities will start at 7 o'clock with the second team meeting the second team of the Menasha high school.

SECONDS ARE WINNERS
The Seconds haven't lost a game and aim to register another win against Menasha. Principal performers for the seconds are Kohl, Courtney, Hilmar, Vaughn, Voigt, Stillman, and the men mentioned are underdogs and Coach Denney is expecting to use them to fill the boots of the regulars who nearly all will graduate next June.

Particular mention is due to Lutz who has been taking part as sub in most of the regular games. Lutz is only a youngster but is doing fine in the coaching game. He will probably be assigned the main forward post next year.

SEYMOUR WHIPS MANAWA CAGERS

High School Players Take Doubleheader From Visiting Quintets

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Seymour—Seymour high school wiped the sting of defeat suffered in the hands of Manawa several weeks ago at Manawa when the Seymour high school teams, boys and girls, took both games from Manawa in the doubleheader, here Friday night in the City Auditorium. The Seymour boys walloped the Manawa lads 24 to 18 and the girls quintet won 26 to 4.

Night Guard Walsh of Manawa was the "whole team" for the visitors. His teammates were Craig, guard; Ham, center; Peterson and Grumbly, forwards.

The Seymour boys showed excellent team work with honors being divided among Guard Duffy, Center Ted Ohlroge and Tom Fiedler, right forward. Ed Eliek, left forward, had the misfortune of throwing in a field goal in the opponent's basket, which gave the opponent's two unearned points. C. Ohlroge was the other player on the Seymour squad.

The girls teams were made up as follows:

Seymour—Goldie Forstner, center; Eleanor Booth and Agnetta Veigh, guards; Tonnetta Friedman and Ethel Nagel, forwards; Hilda Koepf substituted for Miss Nagel.

Manawa—Phyllis Lindow, center; Gretchen Lindow and Irene Peotter, forwards; Gretchen Kelly and Bessie Garon, guards.

Seymour high school will stage another doubleheader here next Friday when the boys team will play Clintonville and the girls a Green Bay high school girls team.

SHEBOYGAN HIGH WHIPS OSHKOSH

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Sheboygan—Sheboygan High school defeated Oshkosh 20 to 17 here Friday evening. The locals outplayed the visitors in team work guarding and close shooting. Streyzewski starred for Oshkosh and Testwilde and Garton for Sheboygan.

JIMMY SMITH, CRACK BOWLER, HERE NEXT WEEK

World's Greatest Pin Knight Will Perform On Elk Alleys Monday And Tuesday

Jimmy Smith, twice A. B. C. all event champion and considered as the world's greatest bowler, will be an Appleton guest Monday and Tuesday.

Smith will take part Monday as a member of the Wisconsin Elks bowling association tournament and will vie for cash honors, and on Tuesday he will give exhibition performances.

The crack bowler will begin his performance at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the doubles with T. Sampson also of Milwaukee, as his partner. Afterward he will bowl in the singles. He will complete Monday night's performance as a member of the B. P. O. E. team No. 337 of Appleton. The latter phase of the program was injected at the request of Smith who wants to get a chance in the all events. Smith will be anchor man on the quint. The Appletonians who will bowl with him are J. J. Monaghan, Nic Weber, James H. Balliet, and R. J. Meyer who will captain the squad.

Menasha, Kaukauna and Appleton ten pin knights will bowl with Smith in the exhibition work Tuesday night. Among them will be Harry Gossett, Menasha star; Minkbeige, Kaukauna shot; Kurt Koletzke, Oscar Kunitz, Homer Dawson and others of Appleton.

There will be an admission of 50 cents each night. The fees will be charged in order to keep the number of spectators within the limited space of the Elk gallery.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

The New York Yankees apparently will pursue the same tactics as they did last year to insure another pennant for Yankee field. They are dickering for Eddie Collins of the White Sox team. The Yanks have a host of players they feel they can give for the Chicago star who is needed to bolster the infield. It might be a good idea if the baseball commission formulated some sort of rule to prevent the concentration of all the great baseball talent in New York.

Basketball fans who figured that Lawrence would have an easy time with Carroll last Thursday night got a shock when the smoke of the battle cleared away, showing the Waukegan quint on the long end of the score. That beating puts Lawrence out of running for second place in the conference. The Lawrentians still have to play Ripon and Carroll before the end of the Little Five season.

The tricks of bowling will be exemplified before an interested audience next Monday and Tuesday when Jimmy Smith, Milwaukee, former world's pin champion comes here to bowl in the Elk tournament. Jimmy is going to honor Appleton by bowling as a member of an Appleton team. No doubt the Elks and the rest of the folks will be glad to show Jimmy a good time while he is a guest of our city.

Jack Bentley said a whole mouthful when he expressed an opinion that it was one thing to sell a baseball player and another thing to get him to report to the club to whom he is sold. Jack has a peeve against the New York Giants and the Baltimore team. He was sold by Baltimore to New York for $65,000 and he wants a share of the purchase price. The glamor of getting into the majors doesn't interest him—he wants the money and says he is going to stick until he gets it. The fact is you can't treat a baseball player like a cow and get away with it.

FOX RIVER BEATS FOREST JUNCTION

After being tied 8 to 8 in the first half, Fox River Paper Co. basketball team of Appleton outplayed the Forest Junction five at Forest Junction Friday night, taking the game by an 18 to 12 score. Nearly 400 persons saw the tilt.

Rundhammer, Fox River forward, was the star with six field goals. The other three baskets were shot by Forward Turnow who also played an excellent game. For Forest Junction Schnell was the shooting ace. He registered three field baskets.

OSHKOSH NORMAL SCHOOL KEEPS UP WINNING STREAK

Oshkosh, Wis.—Oshkosh Normal continued its unbroken series of basketball victories by defeating Platteville Normal at Platteville Friday night, 20 to 17, in its hardest game so far this season. The score was tied throughout most of the contest. Tragical made two baskets just before the final whistle, which won the game for Oshkosh.

Dr. Herman Schaper and Dr. E. L. Bolton are now in their new offices in the Lutheran Aid Bldg. Elevator service.

High marks established a week ago in the tournament of the Wisconsin Elks Bowling association are still intact despite the predicted onslaught of the Wisconsin Rapids crack ten pin men who hit the wood Friday night on the Elk floor. The best hit of work was accomplished by First team of the visitors who hit the wood to the tune of 2,522. In the doubles Drath and Hamilton tumbled over 1,062 pins as the best bit of wood smashing in that division. Hamilton also led in the singles with 586. Nehling and Hill failed to apply M. Coule's principals about "getting better and better" and as the result they are now in the "booby" cash list.

The schedule for Saturday and Sunday indicates that the weekend will be completed with some new changes in the leader divisions. For Saturday Green Bay, Marshfield and Watertown quintets will seek to put their respective towns on the map of the B. P. O. E.

Monday and Tuesday will be gala days of the tournament. Jimmy Smith of Milwaukee and world known crack pin artist, will shoot.

Tickets for Fight
Placed on Sale

Promoter Johnston Making Preparations For Capacity Crowd

Tickets for the coming battle here next Thursday between Jack Duffy and Bill Wolpin in the Armory G arena have been placed on sale Friday afternoon at Bellings Drug Store and Miller and Rule.

Seats are accessible for all purses with some seats selling as low as one dollar. The highest ticket will be $3. This will pay for a ringside seat. The balance of the main floor will be $2. Seats in the first row in the balcony will be sold for $1.50 and the balance unreserved seats will be leased for $1.

With interest growing everywhere Promoter Johnston is making preparations for a capacity crowd. There haven't been any boxing shows in Appleton for two years and most fans are just "yearning to go". The armory will hold as many as 1,500 persons and with the fans from the neighborhood, Promoter Johnston is hoping to fill all seats.

According to the boxing commission's rules the principals of the card must be on the scene of action three days before the battle. This means that Duffy and Wolpin will have to be here on Monday. However, since there are inadequate training quarters in Appleton it is quite likely that Duffy and Wolpin will have to remain in their respective quarters a day or so longer, providing the commission sanctions such a request.

MARQUETTE BEATEN BY CREIGHTON CAGE TEAM

Omaha, Neb.—Ability to hit the basket from beyond the center of the floor was too much for Coach Frank Murray's Marquette university cagers here Friday night as a result of which the Creighton university quintet defeated the Milwaukeeans 24 to 9.

Mahoney and Capt. Lovely of the home quintet especially were able to curve the sphere in from long distance and freighten got an early start and had run up a 12 to 0 lead before Dick Quinn scored first for the Hill-toppers, nabbing a field goal from beneath the net. Quinn's free throw was the only other score the Marquettians got in the first half and the session ended, 14 to 3, with Schabinger's men on top.

MILLS QUITTING MARKET TO FILL ORDERS ON BOOKS

Cold Wave Has Little Effect On Huge National Demand For Lumber

The lumber market retains its great activity despite the cold wave which lately has swept much of the country and has slowed down outdoor work and retail trade, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Full resumption, if not expansion of these activities, is looked for as soon as weather conditions permit. Buying therefore holds up strongly and inquiries are numerous. Orders for all softwoods, and also shipments, remain greatly in excess of production. This means that the lumber shortage is increasing. Many mills are withdrawing from the market, being oversold as far ahead as they care to be. The mills subscribing to the Southern Pine association, for example, on Jan. 26 had orders on hand for 3,355,116 feet per mill, equal to more than six weeks' production at the current rate.

Cargo business continues to hold the attention of the west coast mills. The California market is unprecedentedly active and is paying unusual prices. Lumber offered the Atlantic seaboard is therefore becoming strictly limited in quantity and that available for the middle west is confined almost entirely to transit cars sent by wholesalers who purchased ahead several weeks ago. These transits are proving a boon to the trade in that section, and are being rapidly picked up.

Dry northern pine and hemlock is very scarce and in big demand. Western pines in shop and lower grades are practically unobtainable in any quantity, and uppers are in none too good supply. Redwood and cypress have easier markets, and are scarce and strong. North Carolina pine mills are forced constantly to turn down orders at attractive prices on account of their overbooked condition. The softwood market, in a word, is strong throughout, and prices continue to tend upward. This is especially true of common building items, such as dimension and boards. Upper grades generally are unchanged, in southern pine and Douglas fir perhaps largely due to the temporary comparative dullness of the car material trade. General industrial consumption is voluminous and expanding, and factors here on the whole are scarce, with an advancing tendency.

The hardwood trade is featured, as for some time, by a very strong demand. Automobile manufacturers are still heavily on the market with a wide range of requirements. Furniture interests are increasing their takings, and flooring and interior trim makers remain important consumers. Box and crating plants are keeping low grades moving freely. These and miscellaneous consumers, including exporters, competing among themselves for the dwindling dry stocks, are creating a steadily advancing market.

MAYVILLE PAIR TIES BAY LEADERS IN DOUBLE EVENTS

Several Changes Are Registered In State Ten Pin Classic

Green Bay—Hitting the maples for scores of 602 and 616 respectively, H. Lange and J. Bachman, a pair of Mayville pin knights, rolled into a tie for first place in the doubles with a total of 1,218 at the annual Wisconsin Bowling association tournament here Friday morning.

A strange feature of their score was that at the end of the first game, both left one pin standing; at the conclusion of the second one failed to get one stick while the other got all but two; and in the final assault on the woodenware, each of the pin artists left three pins due to hitting the head pin too fine. Had either man been able to negotiate just one of these pins they would be in sole possession of the top rung of the doubles ladder.

Bucyrus No. 1 team of South Milwaukee rolled into fourth place late Friday night at the Wisconsin bowling tournament with a score of 2,859. Other changes in the doubles and singles put Al Jenss of Milwaukee in third place in the individuals with a 679 mark and J. Schillinger and J. Schwoegler, a Madison pair, in fourth place in the two men event with a 1,202 total.

KANSAS HANDS BAD BEATING TO WHITE

Chicago Lightweight Lucky To Stick Fifteen Rounds With Buffalo Star

New York—Rocky Kansas of Buffalo delivered a severe beating to Charley White of Chicago in a fifteen round bout at Madison Square garden Friday night.

The bout was one sided, and the result was a surprise to close followers of the game who predicted a knock-out for the Chicago man. Kansas got the jump and held it all the way, winning a large ovation from the crowd of 1

NO CHERRY-ST BRIDGE THIS YEAR; 3 SHIFT VOTE

that would be left in the bridge fund after the Lawest bridge is completed and the Lake-st bridge repaired, but is has been suggested from various sources that this money be made available for building junior schools. The suggestion, however, is meeting with rather strenuous opposition. Rumors also are current that the faction of the council which is committed to a Cherry-st bridge, realizing that that project probably cannot be accomplished for some time, is determined that no bridge shall be built at Lawest and is maneuvering to bring about a situation whereby it will be impossible for Lawest bridge proponents to obtain the approval of a majority of elected members of the council to enter into a contract.

Mayor Henry Reuter is in Milwaukee and could not be seen on the latest development in the bridge situation here.
